

Press Release

DIGITAL COGNATE ANNOUNCES NEW PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT WITH DIGITAL CONTROL ROOM AND LUKANGO

London: 9 March 2023

Digital Cognate has announced a new partnership agreement with Digital Control Room and Lukango.

Further strengthening its joint go-to-market partnership with Digital Control Room (DCR), Digital Cognate today announces their latest collaboration arrangement – with specialist small business insurtech Lukango.

Lukango provides custom products designed to make insurance inclusive, clear and fair for the microbusiness and sole professional sector. Their accessible language and easy-to-understand, tailored insurance products put customers at the heart of the insurance experience and helps them better understand and manage their risks.

As part of this new agreement, DCR will support Lukango’s clients via their specialist governance portal for the scanning, curating and collating of online data and client websites, enabling cookie compliance and other regulatory requirements.

Digital Cognate provides the back-end security, immutability, governance, and trust functionality as required from both a risk management and regulatory compliance perspective. Digital Cognate’s technology also brings the ability to ensure a full audit trail and complete transparency for all business transactions, agreements, processes and workflows.

Steve O’Donnell comments, “Another exciting collaboration for Digital Cognate, gaining us access into the insurance sector via small business insurance specialists Lukango.”

Lukango CEO and founder, Joanne Safo, said “This partnership aligns with and complements our core mission; helping entrepreneurs to realise their dreams by protecting their businesses with easy to understand, comprehensive insurance cover. Enhanced cookie compliance and other regulatory conformity is a valuable addition to the protection we offer our digital-native clients.”

Steve Hickey, CEO of DCR, added “Digital Control Room’s front-end technology and compliance portal will enable Lukango to offer additional services and functionality to their existing client base, ensuring cookie compliance and other regulatory adherence as specified by the individual customer and their required business rules.”

Ends

For more information visit www.digitalcognate.co.uk or contact claire.burrows@digitalcognate.co.uk

About Digital Cognate

Digital Cognate is an innovative deep-tech software provider, driven by a strong desire to secure data integrity and digital trust for the long term. It offers an advanced technical solution that ensures absolute trust in the critical business data that sits at the heart of complex multi-party agreements.

Digital Cognate's solution is a cloud-based alternative to traditional blockchain that ensures maximum security, privacy, and control for complex, classified, regulatory or sensitive processes and transactions - enabling businesses to operate both more securely and sustainably, and with far greater trust and certainty than ever before.

www.digitalcognate.co.uk

About Digital Control Room

Digital Control Room is an independent, award-winning software company that provides automated solutions to the challenge of maintaining online compliance. Established in 2011, DCR's platforms scan a company's entire digital estate looking for incorrect, out of date, or potentially problematic content at a forensic level of detail.

Regulatory and compliance teams gain a deeper level of insight than ever before while digital marketing and content owners receive, review and respond to real-time compliance alerts.

Operating across multiple industry sectors including financial services, pharmaceutical, legal and hospitality, DCR has become a trusted partner to its clients and sets a new standard for online compliance, from boardroom to brand.

www.digitalcontrolroom.com

About Lukango

Lukango is a London-based Insurtech dedicated to providing custom insurance to the underserved microbusiness and sole professional sector. The company's innovative dynamic products and accessible language champion and support today's underrepresented small businesses.

Lukango's use of data and smart algorithms allows customers to flex and change the amount of protection needed as their businesses grow.

With over 50 years of combined experience in insurance, underwriting, claims and digital product development, Lukango puts small business owners in control of protecting their dreams with flexible, easy to understand insurance cover.

www.lukango.com